

I'm on Iraq's main north-south highway, sitting in my undershirt and armor with two Navy bomb-disposal technicians in a million-dollar 26-ton armored truck.

I am having one of the signature experiences of this war.

BOMB SQUAD DIARY

A high-tech form of bomb disposal has evolved on the streets of Iraq and Afghanistan. It may be coming to a city near you

COUNTERING IEDs: PART TWO By Glenn Zorpette

